

Russian invasion of Ukraine and the new international order
– the perspective of Central Europe and the countries of the Global South

May 31, 2023

University of Gdansk, Institute of Political Science, Bażyńskiego 4, room D 303

13.00-15:00 PANEL I. The war in Ukraine - origins, geopolitical aspects and implications for the world order

1. Prof. Rob Rabel, The democratic divide on the war in Ukraine and its implications for world order
2. Prof. dr hab. Edward Haliżak, Great failure of the West liberal approach toward Russia after the Cold War. Central European Perspective
3. Dr hab. Agnieszka Bógdał-Brzezińska, Wojna rosyjsko-ukraińska a zmienne determinujące ład międzynarodowy
4. Dr hab. Jan A. Wendt, prof. UG, „La politique des Etats est dans leur geographie“ – geograficzne aspekty wojny w Ukrainie
5. Dr hab. Oleksandr Radchenko, prof. UG, Генезис вторгнення "Русского мира" на Україну на прикладі Луганська та Харкова (The Genesis of the "Russian World" Invasion in Ukraine on the Example of Lugansk and Kharkov)
6. Dr hab. Tomasz Michalski, prof. UG, dr Oleksiy Kryukov, Potencjalna zapaść demograficzna Ukrainy

15:00-15.30 Coffee/lunch break, roundabout -1

15:30-17.30 PANEL II. Perspectives and narratives of the countries of the Global South and Central Europe on the war in Ukraine

1. Dr hab. Maciej Raś, Competing Academic Narratives on the Russia-West Conflict: Research Approaches in Poland
2. Dr hab. Adrian Tyszkiewicz, (Geo)politically involved, military neutral – Hungary and the Russian invasion in Ukraine
3. Dr. Jorge A. Schiavon, The Latin American perspective on the Russian invasion of Ukraine
4. Dr hab. Jakub Zajączkowski, The Indo-Pacific region in the EU strategy after Russian aggression against Ukraine
5. Dr Edyta Chwiej, Russian invasion of Ukraine – the perspective of the Federative Republic of Brazil
6. Dr hab. Marek Rewizorski, prof. UG, Bound to abstain? The BRICS response to the Russian invasion of Ukraine
7. Dr hab. Wojciech Grabowski, prof. UG, Saudi Arabia perspective on war in Ukraine and the order in the Persian Gulf in statu nascendi

18:30 Dinner in Motlava restaurant, Stara Stocznia 2/1, Gdańsk